Irish Don Green for Big Day

READY FOR ST. PATRICK'S DAY? This smiling colleen and her friend Mr. Pussy Cat are properly prepared to celebrate the occasion with the wearing of the green. Cocky kelly green hats decorated with shamrocks sit pertly on the heads of Patty Byrnes, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Byrnes of 531 S. Main St. and her animal friend. The Irish descent of the kitten is somewhat doubtful, however, as he fails to wear the Irish trademark, the cheery smile. St. Patrick's Day, which falls on Sunday, will be observed locally with the holding of the St. Mary athletic banquet Monday night. New York's Irish celebrated today.

Agreement Reported on U.N. Patrols

Egypt Says Troops Will Stay on Border; Meir Flying to U.S.

GAZA (AP) — An Egyptian spokesman says agreement has been reached "in principle" on the role U.N. troops will play in the Gaza Strip. He did not elaborate, but it was understood he meant the troops will be stationed only along the border with Israel while Egypt administers the Strip.

In Cairo, the newspaper Al Gumhurriya reported that Egyptian troops will occupy Rafah and Zuneima inside the strip today "to restore the state of affairs existing before the Israeli aggression."

Israel expressed alarm over the speedy return of Egyptian control in the disputed territory, which Israeli forces reluctantly evacuated only a week ago under strong U. N. and U. S. pressure.

Minister Flies to U. S.

Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir was en route to the United States for urgent talks with Secretary of State Dulles and U.N. Secretary General Dag Hamarskjold. She called the situation in Gaza "extremely disturbing" and said her main purpose was to "contact the American government" before Israel makes any decision on the new crisis.

Hammarskjold, who had planned to fly to the Middle East today, postponed his trip until Monday.

The Egyptian comment on the status of the U.N. Emergency Force (UNEF) was made by Brig. Amin Helmy, army liaison officer with the U.N. troops. He told reporters he had discussed with U. N. Undersecretary Ralph Bunche and Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, UNEF commander, UNEF's new position in the Strip since Egypt resumed administrative responsibilities.

"We agreed in principle on this position," Helmy said.

Will Patrol Line

While he left it at that, there was no doubt among other informants here that Helmy meant the UNEF troops would be limited to patrolling the demarcation line with Israel.

When Israel announced its final decision to pull out of Gaza and the Gulf of Aqaba, Mrs. Meir said it was on the assumption that UNEF would take over both civil and military responsibilities in the two areas.

But Maj. Gen. Mohammed Hassan Abdel Latif, new Egyptian governor in Gaza, told reporters he had assumed full authority over the Gaza Strip and implied that UNEF would operate only along the armistice line.

UNEF forces in the Strip total about 2,600 men. Latif brought in 50 military policemen, 10 officers and 12 civilian officials.

In Tel Aviv, a spokesman for the Israeli foreign office said that although Latif's staff was called a civilian administration, "They are all military men."

The spokesman said that when Israel withdrew from Egypt, there were "certain assumptions and expectations in common with the United States. We want to find out whether they are valid." He added that the United States had "assumed a very grave responsibility in this case."

Club Helps Fix Up Airport

Union Head Gets Day To Turn In Data

Teamsters' President Will Seek Attorney's Advice Before Acting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate rackets probers indicated today they have fixed a 24-hour deadline for Dave Beck, Teamsters Union president, to comply with a demand for his 1949-55 personal financial records.

With the hearings in recess until Tuesday, committee sources said they intend to subpoena Beck's records unless the Teamsters chief quickly gives them to the committee voluntarily. A similar request for Beck's records went out nearly a month ago.

Beck Awaits Advice

There have been allegations that union funds were used to pay some of Beck's personal expenses.

In Seattle, Beck said Friday he hadn't received the committee's new request yet, adding: "I am not taking a position on this until I see what the committee wants and can consult with my attorneys."

Beck said that if his lawyers want him to turn over the records "I will do so in a minute." He said "that depends on whether my attorneys believe my rights are being infringed upon."

The special committee was set up to probe alleged racketeering in both labor and business. So far its hearings have dealt with an alleged plot by West Coast Teamsters officials to take over rackets in Portland, Ore.

Checks Produced

Late in Friday's hearing the committee produced several checks amounting to more than $14,000 and said the Teamsters money went to Nathan W. Shefferman, Chicago labor relations consultant to employers. The committee said he once served in that capacity for Sears, Roebuck & Co.

The checks were signed in 1951 and 1952 by Beck and by Frank Brewster, chairman of the 11-state Western Conference of Teamsters.

Brewster testified that he didn't

Bigelow Says His Appointee Well Qualified

Declares Engineer Meets Standards in Amended Ordinance

Qualifications set up in an amendment to an ordinance passed by City Council Thursday night will not affect the appointment of Theodore Klingler of 323 S. Vine St. as sanitary engineer, Safety-Service Director R. Guy Bigelow said today.

Mr. Bigelow said it was determined in a three-hour interview with Mr. Klingler at City Hall Friday night that Mr. Klingler "is perfectly qualified for the position."

Resigns From Firm

Mr. Klingler has been employed with Floyd G. Browne and Associates for the last three years. He has resigned from the firm to accept the new city post.

Herman Rinehart, chairman of the sewer commission; Thomas Taylor, assistant city engineer, and James Wygle, draftsman in the engineering department, were present during the interview Friday night, Mr. Bigelow said.

Decision to establish qualifications for the sanitary engineer and two sewer inspectors was reached at a special meeting of council called by Councilman-at-large John Courtright Jr. and four other councilmen.

Appointed on Monday

The ordinance setting up the three new positions was passed Monday night, and Mr. Bigelow revealed later that he had appointed Mr. Klingler to the engineer post the same night.

The two inspector positions have not yet been filled.

The new engineering department employes are to oversee construction of new sanitary sewers in the city, and perform such other sewer inspection duties as they may have time for.

Only Six of 30,000 Refugees 'Tainted'

NEW YORK (AP) — Only six of 30,000 Hungarian refugees admitted to this country in the last four months have been found "tainted" of communism, according to the U. S. commissioner of immigration.

Gen. Joseph M. Swing the commissioner, said Friday he would "stake my reputation" on the thoroughness of screening given to weed out refugees with communist leanings.

"These Hungarians," Swing said, "have been better screened than any group of escapees who have come here in the last nine and a half months."

Big New York Parade To Be Staged Today

NEW YORK (AP) — New York turns green today and everyone is Irish. For this is it: the big St. Patrick's Day parade up emerald-striped Fifth Avenue.

Kelly, Kohn, Kosciusko or Kirsch, what does it matter? Stick an "O" in front of them and they all spell fun, music and good fellowship.

The big procession — featuring bands, pipers, shamrocks, jigs, green flags and pretty colleens — starts at 44th street at noon and goes north to 96th street.

Francis Cardinal Spellman will review the festivities from the steps of St. Patrick's Cathedral.

Robert Briscoe, the Jewish Lord Mayor of Dublin, will be in the official reviewing stand with Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

When the two met Friday Wagner told Briscoe: "As mayor of the world's largest Irish city, I welcome the mayor of the world's second largest Irish city."

Replied Briscoe in his pure Irish brogue: "Inasmuch as Dublin is older than New York, I would say we're breaking even."

The parade is being held a day early this year because St. Patrick's Day falls on a Sunday.

Guardsmen Get Bonus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio National Guardsmen are entitled to compensation under the Korean bonus law for extended active duty in the Army even though such duty is not credited on their separation papers, Director Chester W. Goble said Friday.

Britain's Ship Builders Start National Strike

Walkout Is Expected To Idle Three Million Persons Within Week

LONDON (AP) — British shipyard workers struck today in the first of a series of scheduled industrial walkouts that could idle nearly three million workers within a week and cripple the nation's major industries.

The gravest industrial crisis since the general strike of 1926 confronted the country whose postwar full employment already has been dealt a severe blow by blockage of the Suez Canal.

From the Clyde in Scotland to the Thames in southern England, Britain's booming shipyards with more than 2½ billion dollars worth of orders on their books gradually shut down.

The walkout of 200,000 men in more than 70 shipyards was called by leaders of the 40 organizations in the Confederation of Shipbuilding and Engineering Unions.

The 81,237-ton transatlantic liner Queen Mary may be affected. She is undergoing her annual overhaul at Southampton in preparation for the busy summer season.

The striking shipbuilders are scheduled to be joined in their walkout by 2½ million engineering workers one week from today. All of them are demanding a 10 per cent pay increase. Their average pay now is 12 pounds, 13 shillings and 10 pence ($36.24) weekly, some two pounds ($5.60) above the national average.

Move To Slice Budget Grows In Washington

Rep. Simpson Notes Public Stunned Over Proposed Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — An economy-in-government wave surged higher in Congress today with fresh attacks on President Eisenhower's $71,800,000,000 budget.

Rep. Simpson of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, joined the budget critics with a statement in Fairmont, W. Va., Friday night that "right now the American people are stunned over the size of future spending."

"Congress might as well face the fact that there is more animosity today over the size of the federal budget than in any peacetime year in recent history," Simpson said.

Simpson said the people are looking to Congress — rather than to Eisenhower — to cut expenditures. Eisenhower has said he is willing to reexamine his budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1. But he has insisted that Congress will have to whittle down or abandon some programs it authorized if any substantial reductions are to be made.

Chairman Byrd (D-Va) of the Senate Finance Committee Friday urged delegates to a U. S. Chamber of Commerce strategy meeting on government economy to put pressure on both the President and Congress.

Byrd said Eisenhower had recommended "24 brand new programs" and had proposed "indefensible increases" in others. The senator called anew for a five billion dollar cut in the budget.

Eisenhower's budget, Byrd added, calls for the addition of at least 30,000 more federal employes. He said this would bring the total to 2,400,000 with an annual payroll of $11,200,000,000.

Three Men Killed In Crackup of Car

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—Three men were killed today when a car went out of control on a downhill curve of Ohio 76 and smashed into a bridge near the Wayne - Holmes county line.

Thomas M. McBrayer, 18, and Jimmy Lee Lewis, 20, both of Cleveland, died at the scene. William E. Henderson of Whiteville, W. Va., died four hours later in Wooster Community Hospital.

The State Highway Patrol said the car was traveling at excessive speed and that reckless operation charges would be filed against the driver, George McBrayer Jr., 23, brother of Thomas.

Big, Bright Meteor Seen in Southland

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A giant meteor, visible over southwestern and southeastern parts of the nation, blazed through the skies Friday night.

There were reports fragments had reached the earth in Texas, Louisiana and Alabama. None of the reports was confirmed.

Some report said the meteor flashed briefly through the starry moonlit sky, giving off a daytime brilliance, and then disappeared. In some places, it left flaming trails visible for about 20 seconds.

Crosses Atlantic and Back

Blimp Aloft for 11 Days In Setting World Record

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—A Navy blimp, flying longer and farther without stop than any in history, has demonstrated the capability of these roaming sentinels to warn of enemy bombers and submarines while they are still far from American targets.

The ZPG-2 landed at the Boca Chica Naval Air Station here at dark Friday night after being aloft 11 days and 12 minutes.

The blimp covered more than 8,000 miles, compared with the 6,980 mile record set by the German Graf Zeppelin which went around the world in 1929 without refueling.

From the time the blimp left South Weymouth, Mass., until it hooked to a mooring mast here, its 14-man crew had flown it across the Atlantic, cruised above the coast of Portugal and off North Africa, then recrossed the Atlantic to Florida.

Navy officials declared the flight was never intended as a stunt or merely to set a record, but was designed to prove the ability of airships to keep on station for days at a time on patrol.

New emphasis is put on the airship as an airborne platform for radar, to cruise far offshore and flash word of approaching hostile planes. Lighter-than-air proponents note the airship can do the job of the big, fast-flying airplanes used in the offshore early warning system with only a fraction of the fuel required by the planes. And, say the experts, they can ignore weather which baffles planes.

What did the men do, cooped up for 11 days in a cabin about the size of a bus?

Cmdr. Ronald W. Hoel, chief of the air development unit at South Weymouth, said they kept plenty busy, with watches of 12 hours on and 12 off. When they weren't working, they played chess and read.

Allows Long Operation

'Heart Pump' Developed By OSU Medical Experts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A "heart pump" which halts heart action for as long as 45 minutes has been developed at Ohio State University's health center.

Ten years ago, such stoppage of the heart would have caused death and was considered impossible. Today, the "heart pump" is enabling surgeons at University and Children's hospitals here to halt heart action during major surgery cases.

It pumps for the heart and breathes for the lungs.

The machine had its inception in 1950 with basic construction completed in the departments of cardiology and physiology.

The pump detours blood around the heart and lungs. Surgeons then are able to temporarily paralyze the heart muscle, open the organ and correct defects.

Blood normally entering the heart is diverted into the machine through two plastic tubes, one inserted in each of two large veins.

The heart's pumping action is simulated by a series of steel fingers, compressing and releasing a rubber tube in a sort of milking action.

The blood takes on oxygen and emits carbon dioxide, similar to the process that occurs in the lungs. The blood is returned to the patient's body via a plastic tube in a branch of the aorta, the major artery leading from the heart.

Incorporated in the machine is an extensive system of electrical equipment for keeping the blood warm while it is outside the body.

A great deal of blood is needed to "prime the pump." It must be fresh blood, not stored blood.

Vice-Probing Jurors Indict 9 in Portland

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A vice-probing grand jury before which Portland Mayor Terry Schrunk was a witness, returned nine indictments Friday night.

Later two persons were arrested, Frank J. Malloy, 44, business agent for the Teamsters Union here — charged with extortion and conspiracy; and Portland Police Officer Raymond J. Roadnight — charged with false swearing.

Names of the others indicted will not be released until after arrests.

Both Schrunk and Malloy were witnesses at the current Senate labor racketeering probe.

Schrunk was questioned about charges that he accepted a $500 bribe from a gambler in 1955 when Schrunk was Sheriff; Schrunk steadfastly denied the charge.

Malloy refused to answer some questions on grounds of self-incrimination.

Details of Schrunk's testimony before the grand jury here could not be learned. Schrunk was not indicted.

Malloy was indicted on two charges — extortion and conspiracy to commit extortion in connection with the Teamsters efforts to move into the pinball machine industry of Portland.

Roadnight, indicted last summer on a charge of perjury, was re-indicted on the charge of false swearing. He is accused of lying when he stated under oath that he did not offer a bribe to another officer to halt the arrest of persons accused of prostitution, gambling, and illegal liquor sales.

Both men were released after posting bond, Malloy $2,000, and Roadnight $1,000.

Holy Ground

A Sermonette

By REV. J. PAUL GOEBEL
Pastor of First Evangelical and Reformed Church

Text: "The Place on which you are standing is holy ground" (Exodus 3:5

Whenever a man encounters God in a very real way, he experiences a sense of awe which impels him to bow down and worship.

So Moses, attracted by the strange sight of a bush that burned without being consumed, hears a voice saying, "Moses, Moses, do not come near, put off your shoes from your feet, for the place on which you are standing is holy ground."

So Jacob, a fugitive far from home, seeing in a dream a lofty stairway linking earth with heaven, and hearing God's reassuring promise that he would lead and safely bring him back, is moved to exclaim, "How awesome is this place. This is none other than the house of God, and this is the gate of heaven!"

LIKEWISE YOUTHFUL Isaiah encountering the Lord "upon a throne, high and lifted up, his train filling the temple," is overwhelmed by a sense of his own unworthiness and cries out, "Woe is me, for I am lost, for I am a man of unclean lips and I dwell among a people of unclean lips, for my eyes have seen the King, the Lord of hosts."

Experiences like that have changed the course of many a man's life, and through them even the course of nations. For whenever God becomes real and His presence is profoundly felt, old things pass away and the divinity within us begins to take shape.

Because so many revelations and experiences of God happened in Palestine, that place has come to be known as the Holy Land. There men encountered God more definitely than anywhere else on earth. That's why the Garden of Gethsemane is so sacred to mankind, as are also the Upper Room, cross-crowned Calvary and Joseph's garden with its empty tomb.

BUT HOLY TIMES and places are not confined to ancient Israel, nor to the land where Christ once walked and talked with men. For people are encountering God every day and when they do, their souls are filled with awe and wonderment.

When two young people kneel side by side at some sacred altar and pledge life-long love and loyalty not only to each other but to the God who has brought and joined them together — that is holy ground.

When the Creator places a little bundle of heaven into the arms of parents and they become conscious of the eternal significance of the gift and are awed by the privilege and responsibility involved — that for them is holy ground.

When a young person, or an older one, awakened to the fact of God's reality and nearness, and no matter what the crowd may say or do takes his stand on the side of Christ and His kingdom — the time and place where that momentous decision was made will forever after be holy ground.

Even when sickness strikes or prolonged illness is one's lot, or physicial life begins to ebb away, if God is recognized more clearly and the spiritual world takes on new and hitherto undreamed-of meaning — then even so-called tragedy becomes holy ground.

O God, help us to recognize in every event of life Thy voice calling us to higher, holier ground. Amen.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

How To Conquer Stress

A friend of mine is a pilot for one of the great airlines. He flies a big DC-6, and when I fly with him, I enjoy the privilege of spending some time with him up in the cockpit.

Dr. Peale

On one of these trips he was discussing the use of engine power. He stated, "If I use my full engine power for long periods, these engines will lose efficiency. That is to say, stress isn't good for them." And he went on to describe how he uses every bit of his 2,500 horsepower per engine to lift his mighty plane into the air at take-off. Then, as he begins to climb, he cuts back to 1,800 and, when he reaches cruising level, he drops it still further to 1,200.

"If I ran those engines at 2,500 for more than two minutes, it would cause strain in them which, in time, might injure them permanently. I have great power at my command in this plane, but I must know how to use it, how to conserve it."

THEN HE ADDED what I thought was some good philosophy. "Each of us, as people, come to times in our lives when we need all the horsepower we can pour on. But, if we use it constantly and don't know how to ease off, even God can't keep us in physical health. We just can't permit ourselves to go through life tearing ourselves to pieces by strain and stress."

The importance of this statement cannot be minimized. I have often quoted Dr. Hans Selye of Montreal as saying that stress is the cause of most of our diseases. A prominent leader of the American Medical Association has said of Dr. Selye's thinking: "If future events prove this concept correct, it will be one of the most significant medical advances of this century."

Mental and physical stress place excessive burdens upon the protective and renewing functions of the body and lay you open to disease. Depending on your basic weaknesses, you may develop aches in the joints, thyroid or heart trouble, asthma, mental disease or other ills. Nothing in this world operates efficiently under stress, whether it be man or machine.

HOW DO YOU overcome and finally conquer stress? The Royal Bank of Canada, in its internationally-famous monthly newsletter which rarely deals with banking, discusses this problem: "We need not accept hurry and tension as unavoidable, allowing ourselves to be pressed down by the sheer weight of things to be done. Dr. William Osler . . . wrote: 'The ordinary high-pressure business or professional man suffering from angina pectoris may find relief, or even cure, in the simple process of slowing the engines.'"

After you have slowed your engines, there is a second step you must take. It is to feel God's healing touch through spiritual contact with Him. As you touch Him, you really find peace. But how is it possible to reach or touch God? Of course, we make contact with God not with hands of flesh, but with the reach of the mind. It is accomplished by projecting thoughts of faith, love and sincere dedication.

Those who have made such spiritual contact out of stress-filled lives become conscious of an inward letting-go, like a drawn rubber band relaxing. A strange quietness comes over them. Tension may not immediately vanish, for long established mental habits seldom give way immediately, but you become aware that something has happened to modify the old stress pattern. By a continual process of spiritual thinking and living, you gradually master stress and strain.

Jesus Loved Them

By Patrick and Garrison

PHILIP

"Now Philip was of Beth-saida, the city of Andrew and Peter."

—John 1:44

The Bible tells very little about this Apostle, save that he was a fellow townsman of Andrew and Peter, and apparently among the first of that little band of Galileans to follow Jesus from the outset of His ministry.

It is clear that Philip had a practical, perhaps even a mathematical turn of mind, for when the hungry multitude that followed Jesus had to be fed, He turned to Philip and asked:

"Whence shall we buy bread, that these may eat?"

Philip apparently made a quick estimate of the number of persons in the crowd and told Jesus:

"Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little."

There is another indication also (John XII:20-22) that Philip acted as a kind of informal secretary for Jesus. When a number of Greeks, who had come to the Passover feast at Jerusalem, wished to talk with the Nazarene, they sought out Philip.

"Sir," they told him, "we would see Jesus."

Like others of the Disciples, Philip often found it difficult to understand Jesus' words, and His profound meanings.

Jesus told the little company: "If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also: and from henceforth ye know Him, and have seen Him."

But this assurance only confused Philip. He said, "Lord, shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us."

A little sadly perhaps, Jesus asked Philip then:

"Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? He that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father?"

Philip was with the other Disciples at Jerusalem after the Ascension. And again on the day of Pentecost he is mentioned.

But following that day, our only account of him is tradition, according to which he went as a missionary to Phrygia and was later martyred and buried at Hierapolis.

Erie Sends Big Press on Way

Special Care Needed To Clear Obstacles

Shipment of a piece of equipment measuring 18 feet high and 13 feet, nine inches wide was sent from Marion today on its way to Marion, Ind.

The equipment, part of a large press used in stamping out auto parts, is being sent from the Fisher Body plant in Mansfield to a Fisher plant in Indiana.

Erie Railroad officials spent six weeks figuring out clearances along the route of the shipment to make sure it could be transported safely. The railroad, which prides itself on its ability to ship "high and wide" has determined that the shipment can be made, although special care must be taken to inch past tight clearances along the route.

A normal boxcar measures 11 feet in width and about 15 feet in height.

Forgiveness

Our verdict had been given. With a word of commendation the Judge discharged us, the ladies and gentlemen of the jury. The completed duty brought little relief. Instead there was a burden, a spiritual weight. Days of testimony and hours of deliberation had given an oppressive sense of the world's sin and suffering.

The door of my church was open and I slipped inside. I was alone as the rays of the setting sun enhanced the rich colors of the windows. All was quiet. I dropped to my knees.

Gradually in the solemn beauty of that sacred place I found peace. Here was sanctuary for me and for all who would come in faith believing.

Thankfully I arose; my heart and mind felt calm and refreshed. I could go home now, but I would return often. In glad fellowship with God's people I would worship the Christ who died that men might be forgiven.

HOLY BIBLE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Medical Society's Polio Shot Plan in Stark Is Criticized

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Ned F. Bauhof, Canton school physician, Friday night spoke out against the Stark County Medical Society's refusal to provide free mass inoculation against polio in the public schools.

The medical society's program calls for shots only in doctor's offices, free only to "indigents." The school board decided last month to go along with the doctors' plan.

"With the help of our school staff, the Red Cross and the PTA, I can take care of any school in this town in one hour," Dr. Bauhof said in an unscheduled speech at a medical society meeting. "With the help of the physicians we could do the whole town in one day. I know the teachers and parents want exactly what I want."

He was applauded by about 40 PTA members who attended the meeting at the invitation of the society.

Dr. C. V. Smith, president of the Canton Academy of Medicine, said Dr. Bauhof was "in exact opposition to all other doctors in the city."

"We have a good plan," Smith said. "And it is working and I do not believe there is going to be any change in the policy because that's the way the doctors worked it out."

He was presented several items of fishing equipment. As a special gift, his linemen's spurs which he had used in his job for many years were gold plated and mounted on a plaque made from a portion of a telephone pole which he had set up during the first year after he joined the company. The presentation was made by Robert Miley, Central Division engineer of Marion.

Mr. Zimmerman, whose 25-year pin was presented by C. A. Bowen of Marion, Central Division manager, originally joined the Ohio Standard Telephone Co. in Forest, which later was taken over by Ohio Associated Telephone Co., and that in turn taken over by General Telephone. He is married and has three children and is active in church and civic affairs.

Matter of Interest

The response to the pledge letters on the proposed Marion community swimming pool will be watched with great interest by everyone in the county.

There is almost complete agreement on the need for such a pool, and there will be little or no opposition to the idea of constructing one.

The manner in which the money should be raised has been the subject of wide differences of opinion, and there has been some skepticism on the chances of achieving the monetary goal regardless of the method used.

The decision of the recreation commission to seek the funds by public subscription was a courageous one, particularly in view of the fact that many civic leaders experienced in local financial campaigns advised against it.

This newspaper, which has supported the swimming pool from the beginning and will continue to do so, had some reservations at the outset about a public solicitation.

Nevertheless, we applaud the step taken by the recreation officials and wish them the best of luck as the returns come in from their "poll."

Success would be a Marion community victory at the grass roots level, and would be extremely gratifying.

Public Kindergarten

All parents who are interested in sending their children to the public school summer kindergarten should enroll the children as soon as possible.

The city board of education must reach a decision within a month on whether to proceed with the project. The registration to date, which is approximately 50 per cent of those eligible, is quite encouraging but scarcely conclusive.

Parents who have not yet attended one of the preliminary meetings to learn the details of the program should be present for the last session Monday night at Olney Ave. school.

Those unable to attend the Olney meeting still may enroll their children for the kindergarten with the principal in the elementary school district in which they reside.

We are confident that the ultimate response to the program will be excellent and that the school system will establish the kindergarten.

Nevertheless, the idea is new and it is sound, and our school officials deserve better support on the plan than they have received to date.

Call in the Experts

With all due respect for the White House, which passed the buck to Congress, and to Congress, which has passed it back to the White House, there are no fewer than 100 million U.S. citizens, including bright school kids, who could cut that overstuffed budget they are bickering about in Washington.

There would be nothing to it.

The amateur cutters wouldn't know a pressure bloc from a guided missile. They never would have gorged themselves out of a pork barrel, scratched a back for votes, been scared half out of their wits by a military expert, or been impressed with the indispensability of any government project. They would be free to act.

They would take the budget and knock one zero off every figure, except the one representing payment on loans the government has made to cover past deficits.

That would save enough to convince everybody the federal government still can put on the brakes, which is the main idea. The American people can bear the cost of big government if they have to bear it. What they cannot bear is the thought that big government has become so big it cannot control its appetite. That is what is frightening about patty-cake nonsense in Washington over budget - cutting.

Representative government, to be representative, must represent the sovereign people. And the sovereign people are of one mind on budget-cutting. It can be done.

Egg-Counting

The decision by General Motors to postpone construction of a large assembly plant at Lordstown, northwest of Youngstown, has given Ohioans an object lesson in the danger of counting chickens before they are hatched.

The grim thing about it is that preparations to take care of the plant and its employes were not all speculative. Some of them, such as new telephone exchanges, railroad spurs and even a special session of the Ohio General Assembly to clear away legislative obstacles, were wholly in the public interest.

Even the speculative preparations, such as mobile-home sites in anticipation of a sudden increase in population, ultimately would have been imperative, if construction had been ordered.

As it is, all the money spent to get ready for a project that has not materialized has gone down the drain, with no hope of recovery unless General Motors later goes ahead with the Lordstown project.

The danger in these situations is not so much in counting chickens before they are hatched, but in counting chickens before the eggs have been laid. The hen may change her mind—or have it changed by circumstances beyond her control, which is what happened to General Motors at Lordstown.

Religion In and On the Job

A Restless Urge

By EUGENE CARR

The secret of progress is the restless probing and seeking by men and women to discover the new and improve the old, that life may be less difficult and severe, and living more complete and satisfying.

From this insatiable desire for better things has come every benefit we enjoy today — the mechanical devices that ease work, the drugs that prevent and cure illness, faster and more convenient transportation, and safer, more comfortable homes.

Somewhere in the background of every development, a restless man or woman has lived and worked with a sense of urgency that would not cease, would not be denied, until, finally, success was assured. Many times, of course, a discovery has been the result of group action, but always there has been the individual, at least one individual who would not give up, who held steadfastly to his purpose, because something within him would not let go.

THERE ARE MANY cases of record in which a project was pointed toward a particular goal but came up with an entirely different but beneficial result. These have been fortunate discoveries. But to those who were looking for something else, the job they had to do was not done. Famous researchers and scientists have been known to die, still, seeking the answer to a question that spurred their efforts throughout life.

This restless urge within a person is not to be confused with what we call "nerves." True, such a person may have a nervous disposition, but more likely he is quiet and calm, with no outward sign of restlessness. So great is his inner-urge to get on with his prime interest, there is no tendency to give in to excitability or pressure in the usual sense. In fact, his restless urge acts as a sedative for the otherwise disturbing influences that attempt to move in on him.

IN THIS TENSE and taut world of today, with its high-flung ambitions and troublesome problems, each of us needs very much to develop a special concern of worthiness which will absorb the shocks of daily life and reduce to a minimum the stress and strain of living.

It isn't enough to try to eliminate disturbing factors from our lives; that is next to impossible these days. But a feeling of urgency that some one thing is important, above and beyond all else, is a great resistor to wear and tear on the human system, especially if tied to a purpose of real and lasting value.

There is one such prime urgency within all of us. In some it is dormant, in others it is stirring, and in still others it is activated. But it is within us all. It is the urge to seek and find a new nearness to God. Once we let it take over, no crises or loss or destructive force can move it from its place as the central theme that controls our every act and reaction.

Hunting's Goat Song

By Frank Tripp

Testing memories, somebody said, "What's the oldest song that you remember; a whole song, all of the words, verses and chorus?" In our day, we all had sung around the old square piano.

Still nobody could remember all of "Solomon Levi," "Bullfrog on the Bank," or "Bring Back My Bonnie to Me"; not even "America" or "The Star-Spangled Banner." Nobody knew the verses of "Sweet Adeline," "Bird in a Gilded Cage" or "After the Ball." The melodies, choruses and snatches lingered, never all of a song.

There was a big argument with a fellow who knew most of "Who Threw the Overalls in Mrs. Murphy's Chowder?" yet he was licked at the outset. He didn't even know the title. In the original there was no "Mrs. Murphy." It was "Mistress Murphy's Chowder." Surprised? So was he.

As a bit of mental relaxation, give yourself the test and be chagrined at how much you'll have to "tra-la-lah" once familiar lyrics.

THOUGH IN MY youth current songs were my specialty, and for years I have been overrated as an authority, there is only one complete song that I am dead sure of, verbatim.

That one comes from childhood, learned at the knee of a circus clown. It is Bob Hunting's "Goat Song," from days when one of the chores of a clown was to mount a painted barrel in midring and sing a comic song. Bob had a tiny one-ring ten-cent circus that plodded through mud to play the villages and the smaller cities.

It was a struggling little Gay Nineties family circus that was jubiliant over $40 gross receipts a performance. A versatile clown and tumbler, his wife, children, two ponies, four dogs, a monkey performing in one little ring under a small, patched tent.

Moved by night in wagons; set up at dawn by huskies who doubled as "musicians" or as clumsy acrobats with the repertoire of an average YMCA gymnasium. It was an annual must to people who got to know and love Bob, and welcomed him back.

SOMEHOW Bob's "Goat Song" got lost for decades until revived years later in long ago minstrels. With a barbershop quartet or a group of whiskey tenors for the "echo," the corny lyrics get by to this day where convivial males revert to type—if you catch my drift.

The melody is a variation of "Say Au Revoir," each phrase repeated by the assembled part-time inebriates. Here it is (each phrase to be repeated is indicated by a dash):

A friend of mine—named Ikel Gaul—
He bought a goat—just for a stall—
He loved this goat—he said he did—
He bought this goat—just for a kid—
One day this goat—so thin and fine—
Ate three red shirts—off a clothes line—
So Ikel grabbed—him by the back—
And tied him to—the railroad track—
And when this goat—heard the big train come—
He yelled so loud—that he burst one lung—
He yelled again—which gave him pain—
Coughed up the shirts—and flagged the train—

Yep, great grandpappy shook his sides at that one. Bob Hunting became a Barnum and Bailey top clown. He saw fame and bigger days but, I'll bet, no happier than when he sang the Goat Song to 10-cent customers who called him "neighbor."

Even machinery that works perfectly is a delight. There are social and political theories that sound fine but trouble is, they do not work. They bring ruin instead. Ask the preachers of fancy theories if they will work. Where have they worked? "His delight was in the law of the Lord, and in his law does he meditate day and night."—Psalms 1:2.

Constitutional Rights Abridged

By David Lawrence

The right of trial by jury is such an integral part of the Constitution of the United States that, when someone in the law-enforcement branch of the government begins to tamper with it, there is naturally grave concern. Sometimes, because technicalities are overlooked by the general public, the opportunity is afforded officials to pull the wool over the eyes of the people.

Lawrence

Thus, within the last few weeks, a strange and unprecedented action has been taken by a federal judge in Tennessee, acting at the request of the Department of Justice.

It had the effect of denying a jury trial to 18 citizens at Clinton, Tenn., accused of acts of interference with the processes of forced association in the schools.

Just after the publicity was first given to the episode in these columns, a press in a dispatch from Washington on March 6 reported:

"A Justice Department spokesman said 18 persons charged with interference with integration at a Clinton, Tenn., high school are entitled to trial by jury."

-.-

BUT THE FACT is that the Department of Justice, in the middle of the recent proceedings, had petitioned the court to change the name of the case so it would be carried on in the name of the "United States," though previously the parties to the suit were local school board officials and the defendants.

By substituting the words "United States," the right to trial by jury in contempt cases was automatically lost. So the announcement is meaningless.

Knowing the law, why did the Department of Justice ask to change the names of the parties in the first place and why did the federal judge on Feb. 25 approve that request?

Even more puzzling is another question: Why, in view of the March 6 press announcement, hasn't the Department of Justice since asked the federal judge to withdraw its petition to make the "United States" a party to the suit and thus make sure that the right of trial by jury for the defendants will be preserved?

It isn't just a matter of discretion or of the willingness of the Department of Justice to grant a jury trial if the "United States" is a party to the suit. It's a matter of legal right and not of the department's discretion.

IT IS BEING ALLEGED that the Department of Justice all along has not objected to jury trial in the Clinton cases but this never has been and is not now up to the Department of Justice to decide.

So the question goes back to the action of Federal Judge Robert Taylor in Knoxville, who approved the department's request that the "United States" be made a party to the suit. This, under existing law, automatically barred a jury trial.

The theory back of this law presumably is that a judge is the best person to decide whether contempt has been committed in his own courtroom.

But the decisions rendered in the past do not uphold the right of a judge to punish for contempt ordinary acts of lawlessness committed outside his courtroom.

Contempt cases, moreover, have been filed in the name of the "United States" only against persons who are themselves principals in a controversy, like the officers of a labor union who defy an injunction when the government itself has seized or taken over a plant or series of plants.

IN THIS INSTANCE, the local school board is the complaining party, and the local authorities have the responsibility of enforcing law and order.

There would have been a reason for interposing the name of the "United States" as a party to the suit if the local school board had refused to obey the Supreme Court's order on forced association or a federal judge's injunction on the subject But the school board has been complying from the start.

All this becomes pertinent because of the so-called "civil rights" legislation pending in Congress, under which it is sought to allow the "United States" to intervene in cases where Negroes may have been refused an opportunity to register and vote in elections.

If such legislation is passed, the "United States" will become a party to all the suits filed and there will be no opportunity for jury trial unless Congress repeals the present law.

Presumably the proponents of the "civil rights" legislation fear local trials by jury because of public sentiment adverse to forced association of children in schools. So the device being employed is designed to avoid trial by jury.

It's a situation where the end is supposed to justify the means. But the "means" happens to be a denial of rights granted in the Constitution itself.

Cotton Corners

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew: When I was downtown at the bank today waiting for a chance to deliver three gallons of maple sirup to Old Man White, I glanced at a New York newspaper on his desk. I think it was the New York Times.

On the page I looked at there was an article about the trouble they are having with stock-car taxicabs in New York. It said the taxicab people are squawking to auto manufacturers because the new models are hard to get into and out of.

The only good thing about the new models is the fact there is so little room between the back seat and the front seat that people no longer slide out on the floor in a sudden stop. They just bang their knees against the back of the front seat.

Here is another case of something I have noticed throughout my life — the disdain of designers for the human beings who use their handiwork. Until recent years, truck cabs, for example, were unfit for human occupancy. Even now most farm machinery is still being designed on the supposition the operator is an iron man with no aches and pains.

Millions of housewives have broken their backs working at sinks and shelves that were designed for midgets Most beds, as far as I am concerned, are made for half-pint men who have lost both feet in accidents.

I have been in auditoriums and stadiums where it was impossible for a human being to sit down comfortably, although they were presumably designed to hold human beings.

One of my pet peeves has been the stubborn refusal of the goons who erect highway signs to take the limitations of human eyesight into account.

I do not understand why public waiting rooms should not be made comfortable for the public, because that is what the waiting rooms are for. It will not please my ministerial friends to hear about it, but I never have understood why church seats should not be as comfortable as seats in movie theaters.

There is a crying need for "peopleering" to go along with engineering. I have sat in chairs that must have been inspired by the Inquisition, climbed stairs that would do credit to the deeper reaches of Hades where they keep the bad actors and tried to use tools that were made for people with eight-fingered hands and pivots on the wrists.

I protest. Years ago I staged a one-man revolt against short-handled spades for gardeners and made such a pest of myself the Brown Hardware Co. put in a line of long - handled spades named especially for me.

I like to think I had something to do with the evolution that caused seats in school rooms to become comfortable. At least a seat manufacturer who tangled with me when we were equipping the new grade school told me afterward he sent down an order to his designers to see if they could not come up with something better than anything they had designed before.

"Peopleering" might take in a lot of ground if it ever got started. I think income tax forms are monstrosities, because they baffle taxpayers. And who should be more important than the taxpayers who pay the salaries of the knuckleheads in the Treasury Department? Your aunt chimes in to remind me that no one should know more about leering at people than I should know because I have been practicing all my life.

Anyway, yours for better "peopleering."

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Love Conquers All

More than a week has passed with no implementation of the policy announced by Secretary Dulles when he declared, "We believe in romance," in answer to a question whether the government had done anything to help Harold Connolly, hammer - throwing champ, in his fight to marry a Czech lady discus thrower. "I cannot go into this particular case, but our basic principles is as stated," Mr. Dulles added.

This could be the big turn in the cold war. Love has been having a rugged time of it in world affairs. The U.N. has been debating for over a decade without ever putting in a word edgeways for romance. Venus has been denied a seat in the world organization. Apollo has been treated like an enemy state.

A GOSSAMER CURTAIN trimmed with valentines would be a wonderful replacement for the iron curtain. The atomic bomb might be a sure loser against a world dedicated to moonlit beaches as a world influence.

It is our belief the United Nations will get nowhere until its flag bears an arrow-pierced human heart, and adopts as a doorway symbol a giant figure of Cupid. The cold war can best be stopped by moods of enchantment, adoration and deep sentiment. Khruschchev and Nasser might be pushovers for Romeo and Juliet.

All out for romance! All the ultimatums and notes in the world lack the power of "With love and kisses." This column hereby comes out for a U.N. charter amendment that will give romance an even break. And for a firm statement of Washington policy on the tender emotions. We favor:

A federal program for the advancement of soft music in all undersentimentalized nations.

The use of the Gabor Sisters by the Voice of America.

A system of grants or loans to areas struggling not only for a place in the sun, but a spot in the moonlight.

Technical assistance to all under - romantic countries in the form of poems, lipsticks, smart feminine fashions and the music of Berlin, Loesser, Rodgers, etc.

Immediate dispatch abroad of American agents with "know how" in romantic adventure.

-:- -:-

WE URGE THAT Washington create an IBCC (International Billing & Cooing Commission) and an SLA or Spread the Love Administration. The call is for a League of Sentimental Nations. And a Marilyn Monroe Doctrine. Give the nations of this earth more birds and bees, canoes, beach parking lots and porch sofas. It will get back to normal in no time.

THE U.N. GENERAL ASSEMBLY has concluded its eleventh session without yet defining "aggression." Well, aggression is what happens when somebody tries to define what aggression is.

Until the last World War when somebody poked you in the eye, kicked you in the pants and socked you with a beer bottle it was clearly aggressive but today it has become merely a matter for prolonged debate and resolutions.

Once upon a time if a neighbor set fire to your dog and tried to steal your wife it was aggression; today it is hard to get the case on an agenda.

THE SENATE is now probing a bakers' union. A lot of dough is involved, of course.

Railroads say they are losing money on dining cars and may have to abandon them, although some are charging $5 and $6 per dinner. (Remember away back when every menu had "Brown bread and beans. . .60 cents" on every dining car menu, and you always wanted to order it but lacked the courage?)

A British atomic lab has a gadget which will shave a man by remote control. Now for the pushbutton haircut and electronic manicure.

Wage Increase Recommended For Trainmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — An emergency presidential board Friday recommended an aggregate wage increase of 26½ cents an hour over the next three years for about 160,000 members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. The men are employes of 175 class I railroads.

In a report made public by the White House the board also recommended semiannual cost of living increases tied to the government's consumer price index; a mutual bilateral three-year moratorium on demands for wage increases or decreases, and withdrawal by the carriers of three substantial demands for rules changes.

Another recommendation provided for seven paid holidays a a year for yardmen. In this connection the board told President Eisenhower this is the first time a presidential board has recognized seven paid holidays for operating railroad workers.

Under the Railway Labor Act the trainmen's brotherhood cannot strike until 30 days after an emergency board reports to the President on a labor dispute.

Lausche Begins To Adjust to Role As Ohio Senator

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are indications that Frank J. Lausche is getting adjusted to his new role as junior U. S. senator from Ohio.

When Lausche first arrived here he startled newsmen by saying:

"I would rather be governor of Ohio than a senator of the United States."

Lausche defeated Republican George Bender last November in the U. S. Senate race after serving five terms as Ohio's chief executive.

According to Ray White, the senator's administrative aide, there is a "new enthusiasm" about Lausche.

"He (Lausche) was quite impatient at first, even frustrated," White said. "At the beginning he didn't talk much. Now he talks all the time about his job."

"He takes a great personal interest in the bills, and is always asking questions about them in committee hearings," White added.

There have been a few rough moments in Lausche's new career.

For one thing, his frequent opponent and fellow Ohio Democrat, Rep. Wayne Hays, has said flatly that Lausche's opposition to spending on the Pan American games was merely a play for publicity.

Lausche has gone on record as opposed to a five million dollar appropriation for the proposed games in his home town of Cleveland next year.

Local Temple Set To Observe Feast

Observance by the Marion Congregation of Israel of the Purim Feast of Esther will be held Sunday at Temple Israel with the children taking part in the program for the day.

One of the freedom holidays, the event commemorates the saving of her people by Queen Esther when she interceded with the king to spare their lives. It marks their escape from death at the hands of Haman who would have compelled them, along with the Persians, to bow down to him, which they refused to do.

In a festival mood, the children read and act out the entire story from the book of Esther, rejoicing at the good fortune of the people who successfully resisted the despotism of that day. The celebration will begin at 11 a.m. Sunday and continue into the afternoon with the public invited to attend.

Highway Unit Rejects Lower Bid on Project

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Department of Highways has awarded a bridge construction project to the second lowest bidder after determining the lowest bidder was "not qualified."

That was disclosed today by an entry in the department's journal of official transactions, signed by George Thormyer, acting director.

Thormyer was not available immediately to explain the basis for the disqualification.

The contract went to Arthur S. Langenderfer, Inc., of Toledo, which bid $270,576 for building two bridges in Defiance County. The lowest bid was $265,781, submitted by Meyer - Gerding Co., Inc., of Ottawa, the journal disclosed.

When bids were opened March 5, the department had estimated the work would cost $322,700.

The journal also disclosed the department has approved relocation of two small sections of state roads after public hearings. One is nearly two miles of Ohio 560 in Concord Twp., Champaign County. The other is nearly one-half mile of Ohio 630 in Bedford Twp. Meigs County. Hearings were at Urbana and Pomeroy last month.

Residents of County Say New Comet Now Visible

A flashy celestial youngster known as Arend - Roland is making its appearance in the solar system and can be observed with the naked eye shortly after sunset low in the southwest.

Appearance of Arend - Roland, known to some as the Comet Roland, was reported by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Reith and their daughter, Sheryl, of near Caledonia

According to the Reiths, the comet will remain visible to the naked eye on clear days until about April 8 when its orbit will bring it within 30 million miles of the sun and it will be hidden from view.

It will reappear early in May and will set after the sun in the northwest. The comet should attain its greatest tail development at about this time, the Reiths reported.

Dr. John E. Merrill, professor of astronomy at Ohio Wesleyan University in Delaware, said the comet should attain the brilliancy of one of the stars in the belt of Orion, a constellation now appearing nearly overhead and slightly to the south.

Discovery of the comet last Nov. 8 is credited to two Belgian astronomers, S. Arend and M Roland. According to Dr. Merrill, however, a Japanese astronomer near Tokyo had recorded the comet at least a day earlier while photographing areas of the sky.

But before the comet was discovered on the plates, the Belgian astronomers announced their find and received credit as the first observers.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Man Who Found His Home Town

Don Russell used to be a newscaster for Du Mont in New York and on weekends he was one of those communicators of Monitor on NBC. They were high tension jobs in a high tension industry, and then one day he collapsed with a heart attack and got shipped to his home in Stamford, Conn.

JOHN CROSBY

He still hung on to his weekend Monitor job, but the other five days he spent brooding or worrying about himself and his future, until his doctor told him he'd better get busy doing something — maybe woodwork. "I'm not interested in woodwork," Russell said, "so I went out and looked at my carport and thought of making a radio station of it."

-:-

HE CONSULTED the station manager of the local station, WSTC and suggested an hour - long show of news, music and interviews, "with the birds singing and the kids running around." The station manager said fine. Next Russell went to a meeting of Bedford Square merchants. It developed that he was better known in Stamford than he had dreamed. By the time the meeting was over, he had sponsors for his full hour.

So popular was his program that the other Stamford merchants complained that the Bedford Square crowd was hogging the whole show. Russell has since cut Bedford Square down to half an hour to let in the others.

But the big thing to Russell was not his commercial success, but the fact that they liked him in his home town, which is a fairly sizable city of 90,000 people. "I didn't think I had a friend in the world in my own home town," he said. "But I found out it was because I didn't pay any attention to people here. I did nothing but pass them on my way to the station. Like a lot of other commuters to New York City, I used the town as a bedroom."

STAMFORD, though its size would make it a fairly large city, is still a small town in outlook and habit, and the city has shown a great fondness for its local boy on its local station. Although well within the range of New York stations and others nearby, Russell's program has more listeners than the other 21 stations put together.

The first half hour he's up against Arthur Godfrey, and he racks up a 33.5 to Godfrey's 25. "I do a show like Godfrey's actually. It has no definite format. I'm liable to start singing, which I found I can do, or playing the Hammond organ, which I learned as therapy. And I talk. I ad lib all my commercials." (There are 14 commercials on an average program.)

RUSSELL EXPRESSES his opinions on many things. Sometimes things that were not civic issues of any importance become so after he expresses an opinion. "For instance, the Army condemned some land next to an elementary school for training. One day I found myself on the air talking about what a lousy idea this was. Suddenly, I had a rhubarb going, with the PTA involved and a congressman flying up from Washington. The Army backed down."

And then there were some people who were about to erect an apartment building in Stamford just where it would obstruct a lovely view. Russell thought the site would be more appropriate to a war memorial park and said so on the air. Result: Money for the park has been appropriated.

The mayor of Stamford sometimes drops in unannounced to chat with Russell on his show, and even Gov. Ribicoff has done this. The Governor was in Stamford to look at flood control measures and dropped in to tell Russell what he had observed.

No advance arrangements were made. Russell simply looked out of his old carport and saw a couple of official cars drawing up. The next moment the governor was on the air.

RUSSELL HAS TAPED interviews with celebrities like Bob Hope or George Gobel Mostly, though, he likes to talk to local people such as a New York ad man who moved his business from Madison Avenue to Stamford.

Sometimes his children wander up and say: "Hey, dad, it's time for the Dodge commercial!" Or his two kids, Patrick and Peggy, will sing duets. Sometimes he puts a microphone outside to pick up woodland sounds — "sounds people don't listen to."

He has never lost a sponsor, only gained them, and as Stamford's leading booster, there's talk of running him for office. Though he still holds his Monitor job, he could live quite happily off the proceeds from his carport radio show. In short, he's discovered his own home town.

Man Handcuffed To Tree Gnaws Way to Freedom

NEW YORK (AP) — A Staten Island bank manager gnawed his way to freedom after being handcuffed to a sapling Friday by kidnapers.

Augustus M. Pyn,, 47, manager of the Mariners Harbor branch of the Richmond County National Bank, was accosted Thursday night as he walked along a Staten Island street.

After driving around with three men, Pynn said, he was taken to a wooded area and handcuffed to the bottom of a sapling about an inch thick. All the while, Pynn said, the men quizzed him about the bank, the safe combination and the burglar alarm system.

The men left and Pynn gnawed for three hours, finally weakening the sapling enough to snap it in two.

No attempt was made to enter the bank.

Theater Attractions

Following is a summary of the motion pictures that will be presented at theaters in Marion next week.

Palace

"The Rainmaker," which blends drama and comedy and stars Burt Lancaster and Katharine Hepburn, will be the feature attraction of a double bill Sunday through Tuesday at the Palace Theater. Co-starred are Wendell Corey, Lloyd Bridges, Earl Holliman and Cameron Prud'homme.

Also showing will be "Duel at Apache Wells" starring Anna Maria Alberghetti, Ben Cooper and Jim Davis.

"The Rainmaker" tells the story of a fast-talking, footloose and irresponsible confidence man, played by Lancaster, who while promising to bring rain to a drought - stricken farming area, changes the lives of a plain ranch girl, portrayed by Miss Hepburn, and her family. In addition, he works a change of fortune for himself.

Wendell Corey is seen as the "independent" sheriff who thought he was through with women while Lloyd Bridges portrays the girl's brother.

In "Duel at Apache Wells," Ben Cooper oils his six-shooter and heads homeward after four years of roaming when he hears that Jim Davis, a ruthless, ambitious cattleman, is plotting to ruin Ben's father and is courting his sweetheart. Davis has fenced off Apache Wells, a public watering hole necessary to Ben's father if he is to get his cattle to market. If he attempts to break the blockade he will have to fight Davis' hired Mexican gunmen.

To avoid this, Ben and his father make a legitimate attempt to get their beef to the railroad without using Apache Wells, but Davis gets wise to their move.

A single attraction Wednesday and Thursday will be "Lust for Life," unfolding the story of the world-famous painter, Vincent Van Gogh. Kirk Douglas portrays the artist. In supporting riles are Anthony Quinn, James Donald, Pamela Brown and Everett Sloane.

The story probes into the strange and confused character of Van Gogh, explores the tensions which made him a bizarre eccentric, depicts his relationships with a number of women and his friendship with the fellow artist Paul Gauguin. It also traces the development of Van Gogh's work, leading to the last years in which he achieved the fulfillment of his artistic genius at the cost of his life.

Billed for Friday and Saturday as a double feature are "The Great Man," co-starring Jose Ferrer with Dean Jagger, Keenan Wynn, Julie London, Joanne Gilbert and Ed Wynn, and "Istanbul," in Cinemascope and color and starring Errol Flynn and Cornell Borchers.

"The Great Man" details the story of a radio-TV star known as "America's beloved humorist" whose death in an auto accident brings about the revelation that in his behind-the-scenes life he was hated by nearly everyone who knew him.

In "Istanbul," Flynn plays a pilot - adventurer who meets a beautiful tourist in the romantic city of Istanbul, falls in love with her, then loses track of her as the aftermath of a great hotel fire.

Ohio

"Oh, Men! Oh, Women!," a comedy hit on Broadway last season and transferred to the screen in Cinemascope and color, opens today at the Ohio Theater. Dan Dailey, Ginger Rogers, David Niven, Barbara Rush and Tony Randall star in the comedy, a fun-poking glance at the psychoanalyst's couch.

The picture will show through Wednesday with "Suicide Mission," the first motion picture adventure ever re-enacted by the heroes who actually lived it. Leif Larsen stars with other members of the wartime organization as themselves.

In "Oh, Men! Oh, Women!," Ginger Rogers plays the smart wife of Dan Dailey, a movie star, and David Niven is the psychoanalyst, who can straighten out the lives of his patients but runs into difficulty when he tries to adjust his own romance.

Barbara Rush, as a modern young beauty who is the fiancee of Niven, is his chief problem, especially when she is pursued by Tony Randall, who has the role of a Broadway playboy.

Shipboard scenes in the picture were filmed aboard the luxurious liner Liberte of the French line.

"Suicide Mission" is the story of the Norwegian fishermen who smashed the German blockade, working with the British to bring supplies and agents across the storm-tossed North Sea to Nazi-occupied Norway, returning with refugees, Allied soliders and vital information.

Billed as a double feature for Thursday, Friday and Saturday are "The Wrong Man," Alfred Hitchcock's latest thriller taken from real life, plus "The Three Outlaws." The former stars Henry Fonda and Vera Miles and heading the cast in the latter are Neville Brand, Alan Hale and Bruce Bennett.

In "The Wrong Man," the stars play the roles of two people caught in an amazing web of mistaken identity in the city, New York City.

The story in "The Three Outlaws" deals with the adventures of America's most wanted desperados during the West's wildest and most lawless era. Brand, Hale and Robert Christopher are seen as a tough trio who are about to quit their long life of crime, but always have a "last and final" job of robbing to do. Bruce Bennett is seen as a detective on the trail of the gang.

State

"Female Jungle" starring Jayne Mansfield, and "Mohawk" with Scott Brady and Rita Gam, will be shown Sunday and Monday at the State Theater.

Billed for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday are "Port Afrique" and "Emergency Hospital." The former, in technicolor, stars Phil Carey and Pier Angeli, and heading the cast in the latter are Walter Reed and Margaret Lindsay.

John Agar and Cynthia Patrick are stars of the film, "The Mole People," which will be the main attraction of a double feature Friday and Saturday. Completing the billing will be "A Lawless Street," in technicolor and starring Randoph Scott.

C. of C. Against Pact

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Chamber of Commerce Friday adopted a committee report terming the Great Lakes Basin Compact "unnecessary." Legislation pending before the state Legislature would appropriate $18,000 and authorize Ohio's joining the group, which six states have joined.

Supporters of the compact say it is needed to correlate regional planning and development of lake waters including the St. Lawrence Seaway.

DAVID NIVEN is the psychoanalyst and Ginger Rogers is his patient in the comedy in Cinemascope and color, "Oh, Men! Oh, Women!," which opens today at the Ohio Theater. Co-starring Dan Dailey, Barbara Rush and Tony Randall, it will show through Wednesday as one attraction of a double bill.

Panel To Discuss Alcohol Problems At Society Session

The problem which alcobol creates in undermining family and other relationships will be discussed by a panel of five at the spring meeting of the Family Service Society Tuesday night at the YMCA at 7:30 p.m. The session is open to the public.

Panel members are: Rev. L. Harrison Ludwig, moderator; Dr. W. H. Whitehead, physician; Rev. W. Lincoln Stafford, minister; Merle Wise, representative of Alcoholics Anonymous, and Miss Bernadette Clark, psychiatric caseworker.

The group will discuss the points emphasized in a film entitled: "Alcoholism" which will be shown preceding the panel discussion.

Produced by Encyclopedia Britannica, the movie shows in dramatic detail how the seeds of alcoholism are embedded in personality difficulties and describes various forms of treatment. Greater public knowledge of the widespread problem is emphasized.

During the business session conducted by Mrs. Ashley Booth, membership for the coming year will be extended to anyone interested in the work of the society. Chairman of the membership committee is Mrs. Smith Witter.

Wreck Blocks Tracks

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad today was still rerouting trains around a section of the main Pittsburgh-to-St. Louis line, blocked west of here by a freight train derailment Friday.

No one was injured in the derailment of 31 cars of the 107-car train at a crossing near hopedale. The wreck left 320 feet of eastbound track and 600 feet of westbound track torn up. The railroad said it could not determine the cause.

Small Georgia Town Delights Miss Hayward

CARROLLTON, Ga. (AP)—A Motion picture star—bride of five weeks—finds vegetable soup in this small northwest Georgia town as glamorous as Hollywood.

Pretty Susan Hayward has come to this town of 12,000 as the wife of a former FBI man, tall, handsome Floyd Eton Chalkley. She and the six-foot Chalkley, an auto dealer, married Feb. 8 at Phoenix, Ariz.

Among the good things of life down south that the sultry film star is enjoying is "some of the best vegetable soup I ever tasted," she says.

Two weeks ago the neighbors gave a reception for the Chalkleys and showered the bride with gifts of southern food. It was then that Miss Hayward became acquainted with the appetizing broth.

The Chalkleys live on Sunset Blvd., a name reminiscent of Hollywood itself. Their white bungalow has a picket fence. They are making plans for a big ranch-type house on a 160-acre site.

"It'll be made of logs, will have stone floors and lots of windows," says Miss Hayward.

Child Killed in Fire

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Evelyn La Rue, 20, told firemen she put her 17-month-old daughter Debra in bed for a nap and left their trailer home in nearby Twinsburg for a short time Friday. Execution Stay Gets to Prison 2 Minutes Late

Convicted Murderer Already Poisoned in Execution Chamber

SAN QUENTIN, Calif (AP) — Two minutes too late Gov Goodwin Knight tried to grant Burton W Abbott a stay of execution Friday. Instead the kidnap-slayer of 14-year-old Stephanie Bryant died in the San Quentin Prison gas chamber

The timing raised the question whether a convicted criminal could be saved from the gas chamber after the first lethal pellet of potassium cyanide is dropped The answer is no You might as well try to stop the bullets from a rifle in a firing squad after the trigger is pulled

Time Against Abbott

Time raced against Abbott Friday while his attorney, George T Davis, sought any avenue of postponement of the death of the slender, 29-year-old former accounting student

Denied a writ of habeas corpus by the U S Court of Appeals Davis won a one hour stay by presenting a petition to the State Supreme Court An official denial was recorded at 10 42 a m

Davis then tried for another one-hour stay from the governor so he might renew action in the federal courts Knight was aboard the carrier Hancock off the San Francisco peninsula coast on a cruise for civilian notables

Davis reached the governor via ship - to - shore radiotelephone Knight told him he would try to get through to Warden Harley O Teets. By this time it was 11 14 a m Abbott already was in the gas chamber

Warden Gets Call

The condemned man was strapped into the death chair at 11 15 a m The lethal pellets were dropped into a container of sulfuric acid at 11 18 Two minutes later Warden Teets answered a call from the governor's clemency secretary, Joseph Babich

Teets told him "Too late"

He explained later that once a pellet is dropped it takes more than an hour to clear the chamber of gas And physicians say the hydrocyanic gas attacks the brain instantly

Abbott's conviction was based on circumstantial evidence

Stephanie, daughter of Dr and Mrs Charles Bryan of Berkeley, Calif, vanished April 28, 1955 No one saw her abducted No one except her assailant saw her killed On July 15 her purse was found by Abbott's wife in the basement of the Abbott home in nearby Alameda The girl's decomposed body was found in a shallow hillside grave near his Trinity County cabin five days later

Abbott proclaimed his innocence to the end

Late Friday night, a lie detector expert said his findings after interviewing Abbott convinced him the man was guilty The expert, Hal Reidel, retired Berkeley police inspector, said the trial court ruled the evidence inadmissable

Mansfield Gets Divorce, Won't Take Jayne Back

DALLAS (AP) — Paul J Mansfield won a divorce Friday from his famous actress wife and declared he would not take her back even if given the opportunity

Jayne Mansfield was not in court The court awarded her custody of their daughter, Jayne Marie, 6

The couple was married in 1950

Shelby Drops Lima Hoop Crew by 54-45 Margin

Holmes-Liberty Wins Way Into Regional Title Action

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Middletown's defending champions are still in the fight for their second straight Ohio high school basketball championship. They stayed in the race Friday night with one of their most impressive performances.

The six-time winners of the state's Class AA crown smothered New Carlisle Tecumseh 94-52 in the regional semi-finals at Cincinnati. It was the 49th straight win for the Butler County kings and only the second loss in 24 starts for the Clark County club.

Middies Meet Elder

Middletown goes against Cincinnati Elder (19-5) tonight in quest of its eighth trip to the state tourney in 14 years. Six of the seven previous jaunts have ended on the throne and the other in a two-point loss in the finals.

All state tourney berths will be decided tonight, in both Class AA and Class A, as regional titles are decided. The eight teams left of the 349 in Class AA have a combined record of 162 wins against 20 losses.

Cathedral Latin of Cleveland, voted the state's No. 1 team in the final Associated Press poll, and defending champion Middletown, are unbeaten. The upstaters have 22 in a row and Middletown has 24 this year. Akron South is the dark horse with a 17-6 mark, but both Cincinnati Elder and Cleveland East Tech have dropped five starts.

New Boston is the lone clean team in Class A, with a 23-0 record, but the surviving eight of 969 starters have dropped only 21 while winning 187.

Columbus North, ranked fourth in the final poll, was dumped 64-44 by fifth-rated Toledo Macomber Friday night, and ninth-ranked Chillicothe was erased 60-54 by Cincinnati Elder. In Class A, third-place Vienna was the victim of a startling 64-62 upset at the hands of Midvale, beaten nine times.

Whippets Seek Title

Seventh-ranked Shelby in Class AA tangles tonight with Toledo Macomber. The top 10 will be reduced to at least three for the state finals. In Class A only Lockland Wayne's 1952 and 1955 state champs, rated ninth in the final poll, are still on hand from the sports writers' selections.

Of the eight Class AA and eight Class A teams, only Middletown and Lockland Wayne have ever won the state title. Akron South was runner-up to Springfield in 1950, but none of the others have come close.

John Buriff, coach of the Gratis team in Class A which has compiled a 25-1 record, sends his boys against Joe Martin's Lockland Wayne team tonight in the finals at Troy.

As Columbus North bowed out Friday night, only two of last year's state tourney cast were left on hand. They are Middletown and Cleveland East Tech, both in Class AA. East Tech meets unbeaten and top-ranked Cathedral Latin tonight.

In Friday night's four Class AA games, three of the four losers were beaten for only the second time this year. Lima, the other loser, had dropped eight of 20 before succumbing 54-45 to Shelby. Chillicothe, loser to Cincinnati Elder by 60-54, had a 21-2 record. Tecumseh 22-1 (until it ran into Middletown), and Columbus North 23-1 prior to the loss to Toledo Macomber.

Larry Siegfried, guarded by a pair of Lima performers all the way, pumped in 35 markers to lead his mates into the regional title clash.

In addition to his scoring punch, Siegfried, a sure bet for All-Ohio honors, was the top playmaker and floorman in Coach Charles Williams' attack. The Shelby ace compiled his 35 points on eight field goals and 19 points from the charity line.

Shelby managed to grab a 12-11 edge in the first period but the count was all even at 20-20 by the halftime intermission. At the three-quarter mark, Wilhams' charges held a 36-21 cushion.

The regional title clash between Shelby and Toledo Macomber will get under way at 8 p.m. tonight at the University of Toledo field house.

Crawford Team Wins

Mighty Holmes - Liberty, Crawford County's candidate for participation in the forthcoming state basketball tournament, moved one step closer to that goal Friday night by handing New Bremen's quintet a 73-63 defeat in regional play at Lima. The Pirates are slated to face Ayresville tonight at 8 o'clock for the regional championship and a ticket to the state tourney.

Coach Clarence Jewell's boys took a first quarter 18-16 lead and were never headed as they won going away. The score stood 35-30 in their favor at the half, and 57-48 going into the finale.

Paced by the 27-point scoring of Deb Coons, Holmes-Liberty poured 30 goals and 13 free throws through New Bremen's hoops, compared to 26 tallies from the field and 11 completions at the foul line for the losers. Opperman's 25 digits were high for New Bremen.

Holmes Liberty outscored their opponents 17-14 in the second session, 22-18 in the third frame, and 16-15 in the nightcap.

Sellouts Seen For Finals in Tourney Race

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's high school basketball finals March 22-23 will set a new attendance record. The county-to-state tourney games will top the million mark at the gate for the first time, H. W. Emswiler predicted today.

The state scholastic commissioner said interest in tickets for next week's classic is the greatest in history. The new St. John Arena on the Ohio State campus will be filled to overflowing for three of the four sessions, he said.

The arena has 13,300 seats and can handle another 1,500 standees. A few tickets are available for the Class A semifinals Friday afternoon. The others are sellouts.

Coaches of the four Class A and four Class AA qualifiers in tonight's regional finals will meet at the Seneca Hotel here at 11 a.m. Sunday to draw for first round opponents, set practice hours for Thursday, and pick up 1,200 tickets each for the opening contests.

Any school which fails to sell its allotment must have the surplus back here by 2 p.m. Thursday for sale to the general public or the competing school, or lose $100 of its tournament bonus, Emswiler said.

TRI-COUNTY LEAGUE CHAMPS. Gulliford Hardware of Green Camp claimed the regular season Tri-County League title and then rolled through the loop's tournament at Richwood to hang up an 8-1 mark in league action. The champions' overall record was 16 wins and five setbacks. Members of the squad are: front row (left to right) Bob Weston, Wayne Weston, Jim Riley, coach, Don Kempton and Gene Marsh. Back row: Berl Hilborn, Norm Withrow, Paul Shepard, Gene Craycraft, Merl Hilborn and Ed Gulliford, team sponsor.

Taft Banquet Held

ONU Sports Head Praises Harding Athletic Program

Recognition was accorded football and basketball players, team managers and cheerleaders Friday night at the annual Taft Junior High School athletic banquet in the school's cafeteria sponsored by the Taft PTA.

Speaker was Clyde Lamb, athletic director of Ohio Northern University, who talked on the subject, "Boys I Have Known." Mr. Lamb, active in athletics for more than 40 years, and a member of the ONU faculty some 29 years, began his talk by paying tribute to Marion Waits and Robert Beidler, head and assistant coaches respectively at Taft, and to the coaching staff and athletic director of Harding High School.

—:—

"MARION IS, as far as I can determine, developing a wonderful system of athletics," Mr. Lamb declared, and added, "If you boys who are going on to Harding will get behind these coaches, and you parents will continue to give them your support and enthusiasm, this city will certainly have some great ball teams in the next few years."

Lamb, addressing his remarks to the Taft athletes, noted that the "start is the most important thing you can accomplish."

Lamb urged the boys to remember that the individuals who are the best performers are generally the ones who have a real desire to play. "But," he emphasized, "desire means more than just wanting to get on the field or floor. You must be above all, coachable, and you must be willing to sacrifice something. Every team has its share of boys who alibi and make excuses or who want to do everything. The best thing a coach can do is get rid of these boys," he said. "Remember, there can be only one boss—the coach—and your team will fall to pieces if the players do not play together."

The athletic director suggested that the biggest job in connection with junior high players was getting them to do their best. "There is very little difference between victory and defeat, if everyone is doing their best," he asserted. "In fact," he declared, "The worst thing any athlete can do is to go out on a field or floor and perform at anything less than his best."

LAMB WAS introduced by Max Sechrist, Taft guidance councelor, who served as toastmaster. Also introduced for brief remarks were Mr. Gibson, head basketball coach at Harding, Joe McDaniel, an assistant football and basketball mentor at the Prexy school, and Ken Somerlot, Harding athletic coordinator. Marion E. Shank, Taft principal, expressed appreciation to those responsible for the banquet and congratulated the boys for their progress in this year's sporting schedule.

Waits made the presentations of trophies for the best offensive and defensive players on both football and basketball squads, and for the most valuable player of both groups. Selections were made by vote of squad members.

In football, the trophy for the best defensive man on the starting eleven went to Jim Boyd, a guard. Richard Jacks, an end, was chosen the best offensive player, while the vote for the team's overall most valuable player went to Larry Ishida, a center.

In basketball, the best defensive player trophy was won by Larry Prude. Getting the offensive nod was Bill Dixon, while Carl McCleese was declared the team's most valuable player.

Other basketballers recognized included Larry Ishida, James Boyd, Larry Crowe, William Nixon and James Hindman.

Mr. Waits pointed out that the six trophies are presented annually to the school by the Taft Tri-Hi-Y Club.

Mrs. Clarabel Grumblatt presented certificates to the following cheerleaders: Peggy Walker, Sally Sharp, June Rosamond, Charlene Lehner, Diana Ackley and Diana Dunnan.

Eighth grade gridders also came in for recognition, as Mr. Beidler presented certificates to the following boys: Eddie Saunders, Charles Thomas, James Kaelber, William Beecham, Don Fleming, Don Justice, Harry Spring, Ron Parks, Don Parks, Ben Simmons, Jack McGraw and Ben Gilbert.

Planning Session Set For Tourney at LaRue

A spokesman for the sponsors today urged all teams interested in taking part to send a representative to the session. The tourney dates are March 25, 27 and 30. Four trophies and 66 medals will be awarded.

Keglers Open Second Week Of City Event

With the first week of competition completed in the men's annual Marion City Bowling Tournament, the race for the top prizes and trophies is fast and furious. The five-week event is scheduled to run through the weekend of April 14, according to Ed Cheney, secretary of the Marion Bowling Association.

As things stand now, Red Top Beer leads the scoring in team play with 2979 pins. CIO is in second place, while the Indians hold down third. Herb Petrich is high in individual games by virtue of a 265-pin effort, and Charles Bloomingdale leads the pack in Class A all-events competition, with a 1657 score. Don McCully's 1644 is tops in Class B all-events activity.

Pacing the scoring in doubles matches are the following teams: Gene Shenefield, Harry Yager, 1235; William Hoffman, William Bomberger, 1234; Jack Young, Ralph Weber, 1222; Charles Cashell, John Williams, 1206; and Ron Jerew, William Norman, 1203.

The defending team champion of the annual event is the Fraternal Order of Police, who racked up a pin total of 3075 Charles Stubbs and William Hartman took last year's doubles crown, while Tom Blair wears the defending champion roseate for singles play Blair also owns the Class A all-event title, with Sam Mehaffey the possessor of the Class B crown.

The following schedule is for the

'Big Klu' Collects First Hit of Year

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—With the first season game just one month away, Cincinnati's Redlegs now have, at least, the comforting knowledge that slugger Ted Kluszewski's batting eye is still true.

He made his first exhibition game appearance, pinch hitting a line single in the Reds' 4-3 victory over Kansas City's Athletics. But when the muscular first - sacker can start regularly is still a guess.

Cautious of last year's painful hip injury, he's doing his own conditioning. "Hasn't bothered me any in more than a week," he said after the game.

Season Wrapped Up

Steady Improvement Noted By Harding Court Statistics

Jim Gibson, Harding High School basketball coach, today wrapped up the Prexies 1956-57 campaign with a stamp of approval.

"During the course of the season, everything improved except our violations," the Prexy mentor reported. He pointed out, however, that the violations, under his system of charting could be misleading. While some coaches count only bad passes as turnovers, Gibson feels that every time his squad fails to get off a shot that loss of the ball should show up somewhere in the statistics.

The Presidents during the course of their 19-game campaign, were charged with 161 bad passes and a total of 446 violations.

IN OTHER PHASES of the game, the Harding squad showed a steady improvement across the season. The squad finished the campaign with a 40.8 per cent shooting average from the floor. The Harding marksmen connected on 409 of 1,027 efforts.

Turning in the top performance was Everett Shaffstall who hit at a 56 per cent clip. He connected on 84 of 150 tries. Phil Sykes was second in line with 65 of 136 efforts for a 43.5 average while Bob Middleton hit at a 36 per cent clip on 59 of 62 efforts. Joel Sharp canned 74 of 222 shots for a 33 per cent and Jed Middleton finished with 29 per cent, hitting on 38 of 130 shots.

From the free throw line, Harding recorded a 63 per cent average, dropping in 346 of 550 chances. Sykes, with 76 of 104 for a 73 per cent was high in that department. Jed Middleton hit on 48 of 70 for 69 per cent while Shaffstall had 75 of 117 for 64 per cent. Sharp hit 50 of 82 for 61 per cent and Bob Middleton had 65 of 114 for 57 per cent.

Bob Middleton led in rebounds with 133 defensive efforts and 86 under the Harding boards. Sykes had 100 on defense and 73 on offense while Shaffstall finished with 96 and 70.

Jed Middleton was the top playmaker for the team, finishing with 94 assists. Sykes was next in line with 54

—:—

AN INCREASE in attendance was reported for this year at Harding's home games but school officials feel the total still is below the average for a city the size of Marion.

In addition to taking part in a pre-season preview at Mount Vernon, the Prexies will be battling three new opponents at the Harding gym next year. Worthington, Mansfield and district champion Shelby move into spots on next season's slate.

"We sincerely hope we will be able to increase our attendance even more next year," Gibson said. The Harding coach went on to report plans currently are being studied for a reserved seat sale. He said 200 such seats would be available if justified by the demand.

The Harding mentor, admitting that the schedule could be one of the toughest ever attempted by a Harding squad, refused to concede a thing to any team.

"We're going to lose some next year but we're going to learn more basketball with it," Gibson admitted. "We might not come up with as good a won-lost record as we would had we stayed with this year's schedule but I feel there is only one way for us to build our program and we have to play stronger competition."

Ten games will be played at home with eight regular season road tilts. The complete schedule for next year follows: Nov. 22, Mount Vernon preview; Dec. 3, at Kenton; Dec. 7, Columbus Aquinas; Dec. 13, Sandusky; Dec. 14, at Newark; Dec. 20, at Findlay; Dec. 27, Fremont; Dec. 28, Shelby; Jan. 3, Lorain; Jan. 4, at Ashland; Jan. 10, at Elyria; Jan. 17, at Sandusky; Jan. 24, Findlay; Jan. 31, at Fremont; Feb. 1, Worthington; Feb. 4, Mansfield; Feb. 7, at Lorain; Feb. 11, Galion, and Feb. 14, Elyria.

Battle Tonight

Pleasant, Caledonia Meet In Junior High Title Play

Caledonia will battle Pleasant tonight for the Marion County Junior High Basketball tournament championship, while Prospect will take the floor against Morral's five for consolation honors

These pairings are the results of Friday night's semifinal round on the boards of the Morral gymnasium, when the Donians turned back Morral, 51-32, and Pleasant triumphed over Prospect by 38-27 score.

The consolation contest is slated to get under way at 7:30 p.m., with the tilt to follow at 8:30. Both champion and runnerup will receive a trophy.

—:—

POWERFUL Caledonia, tourney favorite after first round play, led all the way in the conquest of the Wildcats. Coach Bill Johnson's boys were away to a 12-6 first quarter lead, held a 25-13 advantage at halftime, and were comfortably in front by a 35-21 point edge going into the finale. The Morral quintet could never quite find the formula for stopping the high-flying Caledonians.

The victors rolled in 20 goals and hit 11 of 20 foul shots. Morral managed but seven completions from the field and dropped 18 of 30 charity shot attempts through the Donian nets.

Sparking the Caledonia drive to the win was Tommy Tomlin who blistered the Morral boards for 11 goals and six free throws for 28 points. Detwiler was second high with 12. Bretigan tallied 10 counts to lead his Morral mates.

In the nightcap, Coach Don Kay's charges worked into a first quarter 9-7 lead, maintained an edge throughout the contest to turn back Prospect's bid, 38-27.

—:—

THE SCORE AT intermission was 17-13. Pleasant in front. With three periods of action completed, Prospect hit 12 times from the forecourt and added a trio of gift shots in the losing cause. High scorer for the Wildcats was Darius Baumgardner's 10 points.

Carol Heiss Finishes Skating's Triple Sweep

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Blonde schoolgirl Carol Heiss today has completed her triple sweep of figure skating titles with collegian Dave Jenkins expected to win his third major crown of the year tonight in the National championships.

The vivaceous 17-year-old from Ozone Park, N. Y., completely outclassed her field Friday night to add the United States laurels to the 1957 North American and world crowns she previously won.

Prexy Cagers To Hear OWU Athletic Chief

Bob Strimer, head basketball coach and athletic director at Ohio Wesleyan University in Delaware, will be speaker at the annual basketball banquet sponsored by the Harding Booster Club Tuesday, March 26.

Tickets for the event now are available, Kenneth Somerlot, athletic coordinator at the school, announced today. They are available from any booster club member or at the school and will be sold for $1.50.

Persons taking advantage of the Booster Club package deal ticket plan last football season were given the privilege of attending any one of the three athletic banquets. Those persons not using their ticket for the football banquet may arrange for their tickets now by contacting J. H. Smith at the school.

J. D. Torrance is chairman of a committee attempting to contact former basketball players at Harding. Those players will attend the banquet in a group, according to their teams.

Somerlot requested persons planning to attend to make their reservations early and said that Monday, March 25 would be the reservation deadline.

Elmer Smith, president of the club, will serve as master of ceremonies and the invocation will be given by J. H. Smith.

Coach Jim Gibson will present varsity letters to the following seniors: Jed Middleton and Phil Sykes, co-captains, Tom Mercer, Dick Wilson and Joel Sharp. Juniors receiving letters will be Vaughn Williams and Everett Shaffstall and Bob Middleton will be the only sophomore. Larry Davis and Gary Williams will receive managers' awards. Mrs. Mary Ludwig will present cheerleading awards to Judy Speck, Josetta Romeo, Donna Eller, Judy Jones, Judy Jay, Marty Bowden and Linda McCurdy.

Cedar Cabinet Helps Relieve Lack of Space

Handyman Can Build Extra Storage Place Within Several Hours

Adequate storage space is one commodity lacking in most homes. One way to stretch storage space in many homes is to build cedar cabinets in the top portions of closets. Shelf space is ordinarily inefficiently used, and can be converted to an efficient storage use by any handyman in a few hours. Then seasonal clothing may be kept in these moth-repellent areas, freeing space in the closets below for inseason storage.

A few simple precautions will insure that the job will be an easy one. Work from inside the closet as much as possible and line the walls and ceiling with cedar before installing the floor and door of the cabinet. Since most lumber yards stock ready-made cabinet doors, it might be wise to plan the doorway to fit a given door. Using a premade door, it won't be necessary to build one yourself. Use a piece of plywood for the floor or base of the cabinet and cover it with cedar. Do not, however, install it until the walls and ceiling are covered.

Decide how deep the cabinet will be and figure the area to be covered, including the floor and door. Purchase enough packages of aromatic red cedar closet lining to complete the job. Each package of tongued and grooved cedar; available at lumber yards, contains enough pieces of cedar to cover at least 32 square feet of the cabinet.

The first step in actually building the cabinet, is making the doorway. Chip out the plaster and frame the doorway, but don't mount the door yet. Working from inside the closet, line the walls and ceiling of the cabinet area with cedar. Fasten each piece of cedar to the wall with small finishing nails, driving each nail through the plaster into wall studs wherever possible. After the walls and ceiling are lined, apply quarter-round cedar molding at all corner joints.

Next, cover the plywood floor with cedar. The floor can be held in place by one-by-two inch supports. The last step, and this is the only one which cannot be done from within the closet, is mounting the cabinet door in place. Before mounting it, however, line its inside surface with cedar for complete moth protection.

You may want to paint or stain the cabinet door to match the closet door, but don't paint or varnish the cedar lining inside the cabinet. Any type of coating on the cedar would close off the pores, preventing the fumes of the cedar oil from escaping. Since the main purpose of using cedar is t. gain the benefits of the fragrant aroma, leave the wood in its natural color.

Maintenance of the cedar cabinet is no problem since it never needs paint or varnish. An occasional dusting with a damp cloth will keep the cedar attractive and aromatic for many years.

Using Electric Router

Tips on Home Repairs

By ANDREW C. LANG
Associated Press Staff Writer

DO . . . use a portable electric router for making grooves, dadoes, joints, mouldings, inlays and hundreds of intricate designs, as well as for trimming plastic laminates and doing many other jobs with special accessories.

DO . . . guide the router firmly but without excessive pressure, allowing the bit to run freely before touching it to the material.

DO . . . use a straight edge guide, clamped over the work, for making straight cuts across wide boards.

DO . . . get interesting effects by making recessed designs in wood and then filling the recessed area with plastic wood or wood putty of a contrasting color.

—:—

DON'T . . . make any adjustments to the machine while the electric plug is in the outlet; merely turning off the switch is not sufficient.

DON'T . . . try to make a groove in the narrow edge of a board until you have first clamped another board to it so that the router will ride over it easily without tipping.

DON'T . . . think that the sizes of the bits limit the width of the grooves and dadoes that can be cut, since repeated cuts alongside one another will produce any desired width.

DON'T . . . forget that, after regulating the depth adjustment, a trial cut should be made on a piece of scrap wood to be certain that it is set to the desired depth.

Water Is Vital Element For Growth of All Plants

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHAPPAQUA, N. Y.—Like good parents, gardeners who raise plants are vitally concerned with nutrition and environment.

Nutrition, of course, involves the provision of the soil and the lawn, making certain the growing medium — the soil — contains food elements which the plants may utilize and thrive upon.

The environment concerns the soil, too, but it also means water and light, for no plant can long survive even if there are plenty of potential foodstuffs around it if there is not also water present in sufficient — but not excessive — quantities to deliver that food. Healthy plants also must be situated where they receive the amount of sunshine they require. Many plants require full sun; a few full shade.

Plants are so thirsty it seems remarkable that the gentle spinkler has become the popular garden accessory it is. Botanists estimate that a plant annually uses an amount of water equal to 400 times its dry weight. For example, one snapdragon utilizes some 50 quarts of water in a season. A moderately large tree drinks 50 gallons of water daily in growing season and when there are many plants crowded together, they are all competing for this critical water supply.

Top Moisture Dries

Only moisture in the top few inches of soil dries out from evaporation. Below this top-soil level lies the water from which all but the shallow-rooted plants draw their water. The hose and the sprinkler are important in refilling the top-soil reservoir of water; snow and rain replenish the underground reserves.

Many of the common garden plants reach deep down for this moisture. Tomato vines sometimes dig six feet into subsoil in quest of water, peas four feet. Even those plants called "shallow-rooted," like lettuce and sweet corn, go down a couple of feet.

Drain Excess Water

Too much water is as fatal to plants as too little. If the soil becomes saturated with water, it pushes out the air, and plants suffocate. Therefore, lawns and gardens must have drainage which will pull away excess moisture. This may be achieved by grading, by trenching, by laying drainage lines of gravel and agricultural tile. It is easiest and most economically done before lawns are started and garden beds marked out.

Gardeners in the northern two-thirds of the nation should be ready to prepare the soil for planting, remembering that it can be worked when a handful is dry enough to crumble in the hand . . . dig over areas of the lawn to be patched and allow soil to settle before seeding . . . clean up bulb beds before growing tips can be injured in the mulch - removing process . . . start a new compost pile.

Southern gardeners should set out tender annuals as soon as the weather has settled . . . put out all types of vegetables . . . cut back old perennials and burn the stalks if there is any danger of disease.

McCann Gives Address At OSU Commencement

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—President Kevin McCann of Defiance College told the 495 graduates at Ohio State University's winter commencement Friday that this is an "age of explosion."

"In the technological race of this era, you are the principal guarantee that this republic will not be the loser," McCann said.

Bachelor's degrees at the exercises were awarded to 346 students. Forty-two received doctorates and 107 master's degrees.

McCann said bombs and birth rates are only "the by-products of the real explosions that make this an age of explosion." More significant, he said, are those of "intellect, of nationalism and of individualism."

Saxbe To Speak

YOUR HOME . . . Today and Tomorrow

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

After an automobile has been in use for three or four years many owners find they have trouble with the door alongside the driver's seat not catching and latching properly, even though it is slammed with force Of course, the slamming does not do the door much good, either in a car or anywhere else All doors are supposed to be closed firmly, and not slammed

All car owners know that the drivers' seat is used more than any of the other seats, and consequently the door beside it is opened and shut anywhere from four to 20 times more than any other door As a result there is more wear on the latch plate and lock assembly in this door than on the others It starts to wear down and get out of the fine alignment and balance necessary to proper operation.

Not long ago, a car with this difficulty was taken to a shop which specialized in body work The mechanic asked if the rear doors were ever used to any extent Upon being told that they were not, he removed the lock plate from one of the rear doors and put it on the door next to the driver's seat, thus in three or four minutes correcting the difficulty until a new plate could be secured and installed

Most lock plates are fastened to the inside of a car door frame with two machine screws, and can be easily removed with a screwdriver In some cars, the plates can be shifted slightly by loosening these screws and an adjustment made which will overcome the failure to latch

In practically everything around us there is this opportunity to interchange things which are constantly used for things which are seldom used, and thus distribute wear and breakage

Careful Plans For Home Can Cut Labor Bill

Planning on building a new house next spring?

Good It's a great adventure, but like many other adventures, careful advance planning pays off

This is particularly true of the plumbing system, says the National Association of Plumbing Contractors It's a good idea to consult with an experienced plumbing contractor long before the plans for the house reach the blueprint stage

If you do this you will save money have better construction and the building project will move ahead more quickly and smoothly Take the matter of joists for instance They must be cut in the right places or there is danger that the construction will be weakened

It is far better, the NAPC points out to plan the house so that the joists won't have to be cut at all This can be avoided if the builder takes the precaution of discussing his house plans with a plumbing contractor in time Not only will the owner get a better house with sounder construction, but he will save the money wasted by cutting joists

Equally important savings can be made by discussing other important elements of the complete plumbing installation with an experienced plumbing contractor His advice on materials, pipe sizing, chemical content of the water, plumbing fixtures, and planning of the bathrooms will be invaluable

Field To Be Cut to 4 for NCAA Play

By The Associated Press

North Carolina, Kansas, Kentucky and California ruled heavy favorites to sweep past Syracuse, Oklahoma City, Michigan State and San Francisco tonight and move into the semifinals of the National Collegiate (NCAA) Basketball Tournament.

The four winners advance to the semifinals and finals at Kansas City next Friday and Saturday.

For mighty North Carolina, the No. 1 team in The Associated Press poll, tonight's game against Syracuse in Philadelphia is doubly important. Not only would a victory send Frank McGuire's talented crew into the round of four, but a triumph would enable them to break the one-season winning streak record.

Tie Present Mark

They tied it Friday night by defeating Canisius, 87-75, for their 29th straight of the season. San Francisco's great team of last season also ran up 29 in a row.

Here is tonight's complete program:

At Philadelphia-North Carolina vs. Syracuse for regional championship. Canisius vs. Lafayette in consolation.

At Lexington, Ky. — Kentucky vs. Michigan State for regional championship. Pitt vs. Notre Dame in consolation.

At Dallas — Kansas vs. Oklahoma City for regional championship. Southern Methodist vs. St. Louis in consolation.

At Corvallis, Ore.—San Francisco vs. California for regional championship. Idaho State vs. Brigham Young in consolation.

While North Carolina had no trouble once all-American Lennie Rosenbluth found the range, both Kansas and Kentucky, ranked No. 2 and 3, respectively, had their troubles.

Kansas had to go into overtime before stopping Southern Methodist, 73-65, while Kentucky couldn't pull away until the final minutes to turn back Pitt, 98-92.

Syracuse earned the dubious pleasure of going against North Carolina with a 75-71 decision over Lafayette. Oklahoma City goes against Kansas by way of a 75-66 triumph over St. Louis, while Michigan State gained the right to meet Kentucky by whipping Notre Dame, 85-83, and in the process snapping a 10-game winning streak of the Irish.

Dons Spring Surprise

San Francisco, the defending champion which had been all but counted out of the running, sailed past Idaho State, 66-51, and California polished off Brigham Young 86-59 in the West Coast competition.

Meanwhile, the nation's other major post-season tournament, the National Invitation (NIT) opened in New York's Madison Square Garden. Utah met Memphis State in the first game. The other three games of the day-night program sent Seton Hall against Xavier of Ohio, Dayton against St. Peter's (N.J.) and Cincinnati against St. Bonaventure.

The NCAA's Small College Tournament is all over. It ended Friday night in Evansville, Ind., when Wheaton vanquished Kentucky Wesleyan, 89-65. In the NAIA tournament in Kansas City, another one for the smaller colleges, Tennessee State and Southeastern Oklahoma meet for the title tonight.

Haynes, Tatum Slated at Coliseum

Marques Haynes, Goose Tatum and their Harlem Magicians will appear at the Coliseum here on Sunday, March 24. It will be one of the final stops on the squad's national tour.

Furnishing the opposition will be a crew of former collegiate cage stars headed by Bill Spivey, seven-foot former All-American from Kentucky.

In addition to Haynes and Tatum, former members of the touring Harlem Globetrotters the Magicians' squad will include Boid Buie, the only known one-armed professional basketball player, Van Phillips, Paul Martin and Lester Burks.

Playing with the Spivey crew will be Charley Madden, four-time winner of the Star of Stars award while playing at the University of Kentucky, and Don Malmrose, an ex-hero of Brigham Young cage greatness.

An advance ticket sale will be held at the National City Bank and the Walgreen Drug Store.

Miss Wright Seeks Title in Women's Play

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Young Mickey Wright, whose goal "is to become the world's greatest woman golfer," got a chance to show what she could do under pressure in today's third round of the 18th titleholders championship.

The 22-year-old blonde from San Diego, Calif., moved into first place Friday at the halfway mark of the 72-hole medal play event with a steady 73-75—148.

Her lead, however, was by no means secure. Ten other contestants — seven from the younger set — were within four strokes of the pace.

Flame-haired Patty Berg, who at 39 is playing some of the best golf of a career which began in 1933, and 20-year-old Wiffi Smith, British and French Women's Open champion last year, were one stroke behind the 5-foot-9 Californian.

Two strokes off the pace in a four-way tie at 150 were 19-year-old Anne Quast and Ruthie Jessen, 20, both of Seattle, Wash.; Marlene Bauer Hagge, 23, of Delray Beach, Fla.; and Betty Jameson, 38, of San Antonio, Tex.

Sheep Auction

The market price averaged $2 higher than last week when 694 animals were sold by 28 consignors at the weekly sheep sale held by the Producers Livestock Cooperative Association Friday at its Marion yards. The Friday sheep sales will continue through March. A summary of Friday's sale follows:

Sheep and lambs: prime lambs 24.40; choice 23.50 - 24.40; good 20.00-23.00; utility 18.00-20.00; cull 18.00 down; choice and prime clip lambs 22.00-22.90; good clip lambs 19.00-22.00; feeder lamb 16.00-19.00; aged sheep for slaughter 2.00-9.00; breeding ewes, none offered.

Tiger Mound Staff Folds In 17-12 Loss to White Sox

By The Associated Press

A contributing factor to the Detroit Tigers' dismal start last season was their lack of hustle in the spring training exhibition games. The Tigers participated in 28 games against major league opposition, winning only eight, losing 19 and tying one.

After the first month of the regular season the Tigers were last in the American League standings and it was a long haul before they started clicking. They finished fifth for the year.

Rookie Manager Jack Tighe was anxious to get his club off to a quick start this exhibition season. "The exhibition games are going to count this year. We're going to play them as hard as mid-season games," he vowed.

Drop Fifth in Row

It hasn't exactly worked out successfully, however, for Tighe and his Tigers. Detroit routed Boston 10-1 in its opener a week ago, but since then the Tigers have dropped five in a row against five different teams.

Friday the batters snapped out of their slump, but the pitching went sour as the Chicago White Sox prevailed 17-12.

Four Detroit pitchers were touched for 16 hits — including a pair of homers by Minnie Minoso that knocked in four runs and around-tripper with two on by Walt Dropo, who had five RBI's.

Elsewhere: Pittsburgh posted its sixth victory in seven starts by downing Washington 5-1. . . . Brooks Lawrence pitched five scoreless innings in Cincinnati's 4-3 triumph over Kansas City. . . .

Sauer Hits Pair

Hank Sauer smacked a pair of three-run homers and Willie Mays hit one as Giants whipped Cleveland 12-7. . . . St. Louis erupted for five-run outburst in sixth frame to turn back Yankees 7-4 as Mickey Mantle unfurled his first spring homer for losers. . . . Milwaukee edged Philadelphia 2-1 scoring winning run in ninth off Robin Roberts. . . . Rain washed out a night game at Miami between Brooklyn and Boston. And the Chicago Cubs beat the Baltimore Orioles, 8-2 in the night opener of a three-game series at Los Angeles.

Bowling

Commercial and Independent bowlers were in action Friday night at the Palace while Whirlpool keglers scored at the Marion.

Highs for the Commercialmen were turned in by Adrian Bright, 248—620; Charles Augenstein, 244—621; Red Schultz, 230-224—622; Bud Messenger, 215-560; Paul Watkins, 215; Ray Skatzes, 213; Irvin Bumgarner, 213; Cliff Baker, 211; Pearl Owens, 210-202—596; Dick Latimore, 202; Dick Jones, 207; Fred Matteson, 204; Webb Anderson, 202; Paul McCleary, 201—577; Dick Weiss, 200; Bill Gore, 200; Herb Petrich, 200; Lefty Groll, 200.

In Independent League competition, highs went to Cloy Johnson, 201—570; Slim Wilson, 224; Ward Poorman, 223—590; Earl Bacon, 212; Tom Roberts, 204-236—594; Bill McJunkin, 202; Charles Iams, 210; Kenny Owens, 212-208—608; Dick Flach, 228; Charles Plumley, 203

Rolling to top tallies for the Whirlpool leaguers were Bob Schauweker, 210—527; John Dietrich, 570; Bud Engel, 522; Bill Adams, 201—557; Ken Johnson, 207—512; Ula Smith, 390. T&O had the single game high of 938, while Planning rolled for series honors with a 2684 effort. Sandy Gay turned in a 4-7-10 split.

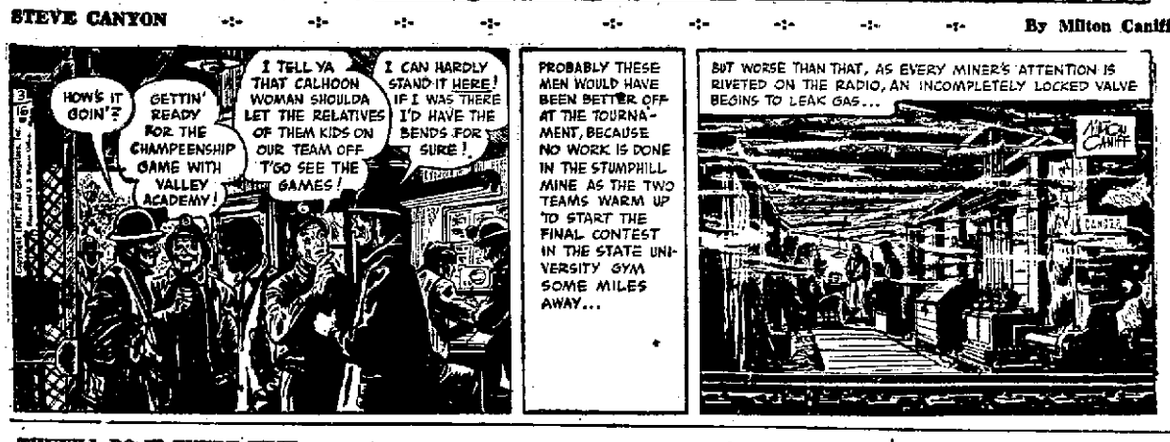
REX MORGAN, M.D. By Dal Curtis

DID YOU SEE AN ELDERLY MAN—A PATIENT IN A BATH ROBE—HERE IN THE LOBBY?
NO, DR. MORGAN!
THERE'S ONLY ONE OTHER WAY OUT OF THIS HOSPITAL—AND THAT'S FROM THE EMPLOYEES' EXIT IN THE REAR!
ARE YOU SURE THE DOC'S KNOW YOU LEFT THE HOSPITAL, POP? USUALLY THEY GIVE YOU YOUR CLOTHES WHEN THEY DISCHARGE YOU!
I AM SYLVESTER LOCK! TAKE ME TO MY HOME AT ONCE!

STEVE CANYON By Milton Caniff



HOW'S IT GOIN'?
GETTIN' READY FOR THE CHAMPEENSHIP GAME WITH VALLEY ACADEMY!
I TELL YA THAT CALHOON WOMAN SHOULDA LET THE RELATIVES OF THEM KIDS ON OUR TEAM OFF T'GO SEE THE GAMES!
I CAN HARDLY STAND IT HERE! IF I WAS THERE I'D HAVE THE BENDS FOR SURE!
PROBABLY THESE MEN WOULD HAVE BEEN BETTER OFF AT THE TOURNAMENT, BECAUSE NO WORK IS DONE IN THE STUMPHILL MINE AS THE TWO TEAMS WARM UP TO START THE FINAL CONTEST IN THE STATE UNIVERSITY GYM SOME MILES AWAY...
BUT WORSE THAN THAT, AS EVERY MINER'S ATTENTION IS RIVETED ON THE RADIO, AN INCOMPLETELY LOCKED VALVE BEGINS TO LEAK GAS...
MILTON CANIFF

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME By Jimmy Hatlo

WHAT? YOU BOUGHT THE OLD DOLDRUM PLACE? WE LOOKED AT THAT LAST YEAR—DID THEY DO ANYTHING ABOUT THE TERMITES? YOU KNOW ABOUT THE INCINERATOR THE CITY'S GOING TO BUILD RIGHT IN THE BACK THERE, DONTCHA? THE DAY THE AGENT SHOWED US THE JOINT IT WAS RAINING... THERE WAS A FOOT OF WATER IN THE CELLAR....
THE NEW HOME OWNER OUGHT TO FEEL GOOD ALL DAY AFTER CHEERFUL CHARLIE GETS THROUGH TEARING THE HOUSE DOWN...
DIDJA EVER SEE THE HOUSE HE LIVES IN? IT LOOKS LIKE A CONVERTED FREIGHT CAR—
BIG-MOUTH LOOKED AT IT—HE LOOKED AT MARILYN PATOOTIE TOO, BUT DID YOU EVER SEE WHAT HE MARRIED?
HIM AN' HIS OLD LADY HAVE WORN OUT TEN REAL-ESTATE AGENTS JUST LOOKING AT EVERYTHING BUT THE TAJ MAHAL...
LISTENING TO THE SOUR-GRAPE SQUEEZER START A PAL'S DAY OFF JUST DANDY....
THANK AND A HAT'LO HAT TIP TO HARRY STORM, CHICAGO, ILL.

Judy Garland Sues CBS for Million Dollars

Singer Charges Libel And Contract Breach In Federal Court Case

NEW YORK (AP) — Singer Judy Garland has filed a $1,393,333 breach of contract and libel suit against the Columbia Broadcasting System

Miss Garland's action, filed Friday in Federal Court, said that on Jan 9 CBS authorized and induced publication of "false and defamatory matter" concerning her in newspapers and other publications

CBS Has No Comment

She charged the network issued such statements as that she "is known for a highly developed inferiority complex" did not "want to work because something is bothering her," and "I don't know but I wouldn't be surprised if it's because she thinks she's terribly fat"

CBS said it had no comment on the suit

Miss Garland seeks a million dollars for the alleged libel, and an additional $393 333 for alleged breach of contract.

On Dec 20, 1955, papers in the suit declare, she signed a contract with CBS to perform as an entertainer on television with one program a year for five years, starting Jan 1, 1956.

First Year Extended

By subsequent agreement, the suit said, the first year was extended to March 31, 1957, with CBS agreeing to pay her $83,333 for each of the programs during the first three years, $90 000 for the fourth year and $95,000 for the fifth year.

On Dec. 19, 1956, she contended, she was told that she would be required for a TV program Feb 25, 1957, but that CBS failed to submit a script for the program plus the names of producer and director as agreed upon

Dog, Object of Gun Battle, Is Gone From Galveston Pound

GALVESTON, Tex (AP)—Blackie, the mongrel that caused a one-hour gun battle and a complete overhaul in the dog catching system of this city, is missing from the pound and may be dead

City Street Commissioner Tom Juneman also said that an all-out campaign to rid the city of stray dogs had been called off Friday to prevent injury to dog catchers and citizens He said five temporary dog catchers had been fired

Results in Gun Fight

The gun fight took place Wednesday when dog catchers Otis O'Callahan and Irving Brown tried to catch Blackie, owned by two 14-year old boys, Robert Garcia and Charles Layman

The dog catchers fired at the dog to scare it, they said The boys said the dog catchers tried to kill Blackie

The boys grabbed the dog, ran home and got a 22 caliber rifle, and fled to a brushy area near their homes They held off the dog catchers and a dozen police for an hour before they gave up Several shots were fired by the boys at the dog catchers Police only fired in the air No one was hurt

The dog was taken to the pound and when the story came out in newspapers Thursday, irate citizens rallied to the boys behalf

The dog was to be kept at the pound for 14 days for observation to see if it had rabies Citizens sent the boys the $17 needed to pay room and board and buy a license for Blackie

Shown Another Dog

The mother of one of the boys went to the dog pound Friday morning to see Blackie and was shown a dog she says was not Blackie The dog catchers said that the dog shown the woman was Blackie and that it was the only dog they have in either of their two pounds that could possibly be the boys' dog

Juneman said that Blackie is either walking the streets of the city or was shot to death

Russia Plans Big Satellite, Says Scientist

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Philadelphia scientist says Russia may try to launch an artifical satellite with "five times the payload" of that planned for Project Vanguard

Dr I M Levitt, director of the Fels Planetarium of Franklin Institute, told a University of Cincinnati audience Friday night that the philosophies of the United States and Russia on the projects are strongly opposed

He said 'The Russian approach will be to put all their eggs in one basket" while the U S "will gamble 12 times in putting satellites into the sky"

Project Vanguard, part of the International Geophysical Year, will fire a rocket from the Florida coast later this year, sending a satellite above the atmosphere to circle the earth and transmit important data about conditions it encounters

Dr Levitt said the Russians will try the same project but with a 100-pound satellite—much bigger than the American one

"If they (Russians) should fail on one try, they will attempt subsequent ones," he said 'The important feature here is that a single satellite will provide more information than a dozen of ours"
